4-29-2023 11:24:56	pillaiaa18arch@student.mes.ac.in	No	The course structure should evolve and incorporate current practice trends and digitalize. It's more theoretical at present but we need a lot more research based explorative and practical learning environment. No point to have extensive five year long architecture course without being able to achieve the above pointers. Learning to design and moulding into a good designer should be taught and discussed more in the curriculum.	Good	Fair	Fair	Good	Good	Fair	DD should incorporate more research based approach and encourage students to take up unconventional and present day issues. On site research and direct engagement with site will open up more learnings and boost the spirit of designing.

Timestamp	Email Address	Name the faculty	Nature of your appointment	Name the subjects taught by you	Please give your feedback regarding the revision of syllabus or examination pattern	Please give your self assessment regarding the subjects taught by you in previous AY wrt your experiences. Refer to feedbacks received from students, jurors and employers. It should aim for the betterment of quality of education at PiCA.	Please give your suggestions wrt each subject taught by you that can be implemented 1. short term 2. long term
7-28-2023 14:54:44	harshadkatkar@mes.ac.in	Harshada Katkar	Full-time	Urban Design Studio, Elective	Examination pattern is appropriate and flexible which unable to incorporate latest trends into studio.	1. Scope of the Project needs to be designed a cording to time available for students	1. Well planned site visits would help students in mapping. 2. Experts from the field needs to be called on regular basis.
7-28-2023 15:29:27	sbhide@mes.ac.in	Shubhangi Bhide	Full-time	Architectural Design, Building services, Architectural Representation and Detailing, Professional Practice	Syllabus should be w.r.t. current developments in the building industry. Examination should not be just marks oriented but it should be based on the understanding of the subject w.r.t. its implementation in the project.	In Architectural Design, emphasis should be on functionality, sustainability w.r.t. climatic conditions. In Building Services, students should get exposure to real life challenges in getting the solutions to be implemented on site. In Professional Practice, variety of business practices should be taken care of w.r.t. legal financial, marketing, management and administrative activities.	Architectural Design: 1. short term: Pre-design and schematic design. 2. long term: Design development with constructional details. Building Services: 1. short term: Introduction to the subject with challenges. 2. long term: Solutions to the challenges with implementation on the site. A.R.D.: 1. short term: Introduction to the current representation techniques. 2. long term: Learning the use of various softwares for the detailing. P.P. 1. short term: Introduction to the profession 2. long term: Learning to face the challenges in practice.

7-28-2023 15:41:33	smitadalvi@mes.ac.in	Smita Dalvi	Full-time	Architectural Design, Design Dissertation, Building Construction, Humanities, Architectural Theory, College Projects	The positive feature of the current syllabus is that it offers a great degree of freedom for individual colleges to devise their own content. Many verticals like Allied Design, College Projects and Electives are left to the colleges to decide the content as per their philosophy. The syllabus also tries to integrate technology courses into a single studio, however, it still considers these courses separately for grading. This nullifies the intended integration. The technology studio should be a single, integrated course, removing separate courses for Building Construction, Services, etc. There are 9 to 10 courses in a semester, this	I was able to teach my courses fairly well. The student response was largely good in all courses. In courses like Humanities, there is a big variance of student interest, considering which, I had a fairly consistent voluntary attendance in the class. Using techniques like blended learning made the course more interactive and interesting for the students. This is reflected in the official feedback as well as personal feedback collected by me. Student performance in the final exam was above par.	The syllabus tries to integrate technology courses into a single studio, however, it still considers these courses separately for grading. This nullifies the intended integration as colleges usually continue teaching them separately for sake of convenience and unwillingness to change. The technology studio should be a single, integrated course, removing separate courses for Building Construction, Services, etc. For allied design, several options could be specified in the curriculum, each with a course number. The colleges can pick and choose from this pool, while still deciding the course content themselves.

7-28-2023 16:00:28	nsayed@mes.ac.in	Neha Sayed	Full-time	Architecture Design, Building Services, Working Drawing, Design Dissertation	I have joined recently again after a break for my PhD studies. I am currently studying the syllabus and can comment on it after a semester of teaching.	I was not teaching in the previous year so it is difficult to comment.	The architectural design approach in the school needs thorough examination. I am now teaching in the third year and the students do not even know how to sketch. Building services and working drawing both subjects need practicing architects who come on visiting basis. I think, both the problems need to be solved soon for a long term benefit.

7-28-2023 16:09:39	rupalivaidya@mes.ac.in	Rupali Vaidya	Full-time	Architectural design (Sem 7, 4), Building Construction (Sem 1, 5,6,7,9), Humanities (Sem 1), Allied Design (Sem 6)	The syllabus does give insights above the subjects included in the course except that the syllabus does not provide practical knowledge to the students which would help them after completion of the course. The examination system, however ineffective it may seem, unfortunately may not have a window for revision and will have to continue as is.	Building Construction in all the semesters : Approach to this subject needs to be more practical rather than focusing only on completion of lectures and assignment sheets only. More site visits need to be conducted. Architectural Design : As the students concentrate on the design part more, they tend to fall back on finer details of construction and the application of Municipal rules. This may be achieved by a more practical approach to Design. Humanities: In this subject particularly, the students complete assignments with a mere focus on marks without getting involved in the topic which leads to not understanding the concepts. This results in weak theoretical expressions in Architectural Design problems in the upcoming years. Allied Design studio(HOUSING): This subject is aimed to act as a preparatory studio for the students to tackle the Architectural design studio in the semester 7. Somehow more exposure to site visit or documentation in semester 6 will help ease the predesign study in Semester 7.	Building Construction: Short term: More site visits could be conducted where the students can observe the proceedings on construction sites with respect to the advancements in the industry. This will help students to gain knowledge in the subject and get equipped with the current systems implemented in the Building industry. Also arranging hands on workshops possibly and expert lectures in the subject can be done. Long term: An attempt to revise the syllabus can be done as quite a chunk of the same is practically not applicable in the current construction industry scenario. Architectural Design: Short term: Giving more emphasis on user studies and case studies (Pre Design) studies which are looked upon as assignments to be checked listed. The students to be encouraged to take help of soft wares for better representation of drawings. Long term: We can encourage students to take up live projects so the students can get as close as possible to the current scenario in terms of rules, the stakeholders, etc which will make more practical solutions. Humanities: Short Term: Giving more scope to interactive sessions like quizzes, skits, movies, wherein the newly joined students effortlessly get into the basics understanding the concepts better. Long Term: A thought to be given to revise the syllabus making it more adaptive to site visits and could be research and documentation based instead of focus on theory and exam paper writing.

It should incorporate the latest trends, technologies, and best practices relevant to the field. Balance between Traditional and Modern Approaches: In construction subject we do include the traditional methods of construction in	The focus is on the betterment of the quality of education at the college level. Engagement of Guest lectures from industry expert in different subjects for each year is a good practice which is followed in every semester. B.tech subject Hands-on Experience: Incorporating live projects, and industrial training can help students apply theoretical knowledge to real-world situations. Emphasis on Fundamentals: B.Tech technical details should be incorporated in building a strong foundation in core construction subjects. A well-structured program should cover essential concepts and principles for better understanding. Humanities subject Interdisciplinary Approach: Integrating humanities subjects with technical disciplines can encourage students to explore the interconnection of different fields and promote innovative thinking. Practical Application: Incorporating practical projects and case studies in humanities courses can help students see the real-world implications of their knowledge.	Short term suggestions: Multidisciplinary approach: Encourage collaborative projects where B.Tech, humanities, and architecture students work together. This fosters interdisciplinary learning and exposes students to different perspectives, enhancing their problem-solving abilities. Interactive Workshops: Organising interactive workshops on Revit software for architecture students. These workshops can provide hands-on training and practical experience with the software, helping students become proficient in using it for their design projects. Feedback Mechanism: Establish a feedback mechanism for every subject where students can anonymously share their thoughts on the subjects, teaching methods, and overall learning experience. This feedback can help identify immediate areas of improvement. Long term suggestions: Curriculum Revision and Industry Alignment: Regularly review and update the B.Tech, humanities, Revit, and surveying subjects to align with the latest industry trends and demands. This ensures that students are well-prepared for the evolving market job. Integration of Humanities and Architecture Courses: Integrate humanities subjects more effectively into the architecture curriculum. Explore ways to apply philosophical, social, and cultural aspects to architectural design, encouraging students to think critically about the impact of architecture on society. Industry Internships and Placements: Practical exposure during internships can significantly enhance students' skills. 7-28-2023 17:16:53	sayaleekulkarni@mes.ac.in	Sayalee Kulkarni	Full-time	Sem II - Architectural design, Sem III - Interior Design, Sem IV- ABS, Sem IV - Interior Design, Sem V- CP, Sem VI- B tech, Sem VI - services, Sem VII - Architectural Design, Sem VII - ARD Muncipal drawings, Sem VII - Services, Sem IX - Services, Sem IX - Allied Design - Urban Design, Sem IX - DD, Sem X- DD	I think the syllabus for Architectural design stream is well planned, however there are a few spaces where some amendments can be experimented. the technical subjects can have more of practical approach, more site visits as Architecture is all about experiential learning.the practical approach can be developed from the first year itself by inculcating ongoing site visits, at different stages of a project. a right balance in the theoretical and practical approach towards a project should be managed through the syllabus design.	As per the field experience as well as teaching experience, a few experiences were notifiable , for example, SEM VII Architectural building Services consists of HVAC, which doesn't have a structured syllabus by University and the Institute designs the syllabus independently. The syllabus should focus more on Architectural aspects of HVAC designing rather than technical works as it doesn't fall under an Architects scope. for this an Architect working with MEP consultant scenario should be imagined and Architects scope of work in HVAC should be highlighted. The Allied Design course in Sem III, i.e. Interior Design should be taken to a level of balancing studio based and site based learning to include more of practical experience. and interior design like Architectural design should incorporate more site visits and case studies. The interior design course happens at a very initial level of the programme which results in the immature outcomes in terms of representation. the final outcome lacks in visual quality due to undeveloped representation skills.	Short term: hands on workshops, guest lectures for each subject in each term by experts can be a short term suggestion. However, designing the syllabus itself in a way to inculcate expertise in the field through practical knowledge will be advisable. more market surveys for interior design subject to keep up with the current trends can be structured in the syllabus. to produce a visually appreciable outcome, softskill development electives or courses can be aligned.

As per the requirements, a longer time period is required to complete the given assignments but students do not get enough time to complete the assignments as expected. More lectures needed for carrying out topics and more faculty needed for ARD subject.	Short term - Freehand is very important in ARD. If more lectures are given then freehand could be implemented and we can get many outcomes from students. Long term - Freehand drawing and sketching (indoor and outdoor) should be introduced as a different subject for the students.

I do not have any significant feedback on this.	Design Dissertation (semesters, 9 and 10) and Architectural Design (semester 7) are subjects that I teach along with a team of teachers. My self assessment is based on the student and jury feedback that we received. As per that, there is scope for improvement in the outcomes in Design Dissertation. We are making progress with the subject, but we need to do more. The feedback on the course and the outcomes in Architectural Design from the students and the jury has been positive. There is a year on year improvement in the teaching and the outcomes and as a team we are hoping to build on the good practices. The feedback from the students on my individual performance in these subjects has been good. I am the subject coordinator for Humanities (semesters, 2 and 3) and Architectural Theory (semesters, 3 and 4) and have a leading role in the shaping of the course and its delivery. The feedback from the students about the courses in semester 3 falls in the average to good range. This is an area of concern for me and I am working towards improving the ratings.	The feedback that I have for each subject is as follows. DESIGN DISSERTATION Short term: We need to improve the curation of lectures and workshops in the course by internal and/or guest faculty for better teacher-student engagement and work quality. Long term: Since this is a subject that is taught by a large faculty team, we need to have regular faculty workshops to ensure that our academic objectives and outcomes are constantly aligned. These faculty workshops can help us improve as a team collectively. ARCHITECTURAL DESIGN Short term: Work further on the positive results of the last two studios to increase the quantum of good projects and in the process raise the average quality of the studio. Long term: Make housing as sector and as a building type a focus area in PiCA and start engaging with the public and private sector with respect to housing policy and design. HUMANITIES & ARCHITECTURAL THEORY Short term: Improve student engagement in class, the quality of the assignments and the outcomes. Long term: I have two suggestions. One, Humanities and Architectural Theory are often perceived as subjects with low practical relevance, but at the same time have a significant role in shaping reading, writing and critical thinking skills. We can counter the perception problem by integrating the subjects cohesively with the design studios. The current

Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	This batch is exceptional due to covid restrictions. But still many of students could do well	Very Good	Excellent	Excellent	Very Good	Great efforts by the faculty in the present scenario
Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	The students seemed to be translating their Concepts into literal forms and were unable to translate the abstract idea of the concept into a tangible expression that would be an experience rather than a form.	Very Good	Satisfactory	Excellent	Satisfactory	At the II and III Year level, the college can introduce exercises focused on the development of various aspects of the design process, such as exercises that help develop skills to identify concept ideas, analyze them by understanding the underlying cause and effect or the translation of abstract ideas into tangible and observable expressions, and encourage the students to use these processes in developing various concepts for each design project, and chose the one that is most relevant and appropriate to the project's functional requirements as well as their own intent for the design. Also, students need to be taught to allow their designs to evolve and mature, by encouraging them to intentionally dissect, modify, combine, disperse and expand the initial ideas of spatial organization that they come up with as expressions of concept. This will help them to explore the design's inherent potential more completely and hence evoke more mature and responsive design ideas rather than attempting to fit (both the functional requirements as well as concept ideas) into a preconceived and predetermined output of a form.
Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Satisfactory	Very Good	Very Good	Excellent	Very Good	Not really. Considering the session were taken online there are limitations to everything..

Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes		Very Good	Satisfactory	Very Good	Satisfactory	The overall design process adopted by the faculty was very good. Overall the students had tried adopting a sensitive approach in spite of having constraints in the times of pandemic. Few considerations for the regulations (may be at a very minor level) could have been incorporated.	The conduct of the jury was very well organised and everything with respect to the design including the details of the project, the process of conduct, etc. were explained in advance to the jury which helped us in the understanding of the project. I really appreciate the efforts taken by the faculty in not only organising the jury but also guiding the students in their designs.

Satisfactory	Satisfactory	Satisfactory	Satisfactory	The design studio appears to have been well conducted as most students had a good grasp of the brief. Some attention needs to be focused on discussions around choice of materials and how forms will evolve structurally. Accommodation for disabilities needs to go beyond wheelchair users in the insights given to students.
Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	should visit the site if possible	Very Good	Very Good	Very Good	Very Good	students are quite good actually in terms of drawing, understanding and presentation. need a little polishing i believe
Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Pre-design process is an essential part of any Design Project. Some of the students were able to follow the process thoroughly. And hence, came up with appropriate design solutions	Very Good	Very Good	Very Good	Excellent	The Design Brief was very well laid out. And the overall process followed, the Pre-design research was very well integrated into the Design Project. Parth & Shravya performed exceedingly well. Harsh's and Binita needs to put in a lot of effort. Their drawings were very average. and their conceptual clarity was also very limited. The Design Project in itself very interesting & challenging at the same time. Dharavi is a culturally rich context to work in.	You already seem to be doing amazing work!
Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Students could be asked to do case studies on linear sites to see how architects have dealt with it.	Very Good	Very Good	Excellent	Excellent	Saw some really interesting, bold design statements that were clear to understand, logical and had a great narrative. I was very happy to see simple yet bold designs on such a challenging site. Presentation (verbal and graphical both)skills of most of them were top notch. Great work by everyone at PICA.	All's great.
Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes		Very Good	Very Good	Very Good	Very Good	Got to see some exceptional work with clear understanding of the problem - and good analysis as well where as there were a few who lacked the site zoning part
Yes	No	Yes	No	Yes	No	Yes	Pre-design process in my opinion is important where in the research component of design studio can be explored.	Satisfactory	Satisfactory	Very Good	Very Good	The pandemic semester has been challenging. There is need to hand hold and guide students. It is important to focus on improving and learning skills. The studio should provide space to discuss the architecture and exploration of forms. The briefs should be composed accordingly. As a good practice a detailed grading rubric can be shared with students which helps them better and prepare better.	Challenge students and inculcate design thinking part of process.
Yes	No	Yes	No	Yes	Yes	Yes	The pre-design process needs more exploration in terms of ways of drawing out ideas and concepts. The case study was successful in some ways to experiment with an idea, however architectural form, material, thinking simultaneously through section and plans needs to be encouraged. Some students used modelling, and physical; models successfully, but most worked with a bubble diagram of functional separation. Diagramming spatial experience at the level of site, circulation, responses to surroundings can be the first step so that the idea of function of the building is expanded to a contextual one.	Below Average	Satisfactory	Satisfactory	Very Good	Given the difficulties of online education, the students had worked hard and presented well. Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	It was elaborate and exhaustive, however students need to put more effort into translating their ideas into design.	Very Good	Very Good	Satisfactory	Satisfactory	Very impressive and well worked out brief - I could see that it did not only help students with the design process, but students also enjoyed working on the exercise. None of the groups we assessed were below average or did not perform poorly, however, students still need to look at complete design as one solution, rather than fragments like plans, sections and elevations.	Nothing at the moment - the jury was well organised and communication was efficient. Hope it only gets better from here.

Very Good	Satisfactory	Very Good	Very Good	The last mile of the design studio has to be worked upon. The projects must go through rigorous and multiple iteration of façade rendering wrt materials and associated composition strategy. Most projects in the jury today appeared to be just the by-product of plans represented in 3D. Critical 3rd dimension review is essential. It is a wonderful move by the design studio to get a group of students to develop a common design project. It mimics the practise world scenario, it will also equip students to quickly blend in the work environment almost anywhere. Best wishes and kudos to the faculty and students at PICA.
Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	A good initiative towards introduction of residential design which was not a stereo type.	Satisfactory	Satisfactory	Very Good	Very Good	Design always has a scope of improvement in all aspects from the conceptual process to final output. However within the given time frame achieving a certain goal is the real challenge. So overall the efforts of the students and the faculties was well reflected in the work displayed. A small request to give the students a little extra time to present their hardwork and a some more time to the Jury members to comment on it or appreciate it.

Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes	The pre design process as mentioned in the brief is critical and i would appreciate if a segment of the presentation is dedicated to the inferences of the students from the pre design study. The tendency of students to jump straight into designing and treating the important pre design processes as a formality was displayed by a few groups. Some groups have done their study well and their designs stood out because of that.	Satisfactory	Satisfactory	Very Good	Very Good	The graphical presentation skills of the students are quite nice. Most of them in line diagrams with out even showing the lift machine room, water tank and even stair case cabin.	May be due to lack of interaction between the faculty and students due to pandemic. At the same time, since studios are conducted online students can very well show their work and get the corrections which seems to have not taken place.

FEEDBACK

1 Did you get adequate information about the project/studio YES

		Response		Remarks (If Any)
i	Program	Yes ✓	No	ENVIRONMENTAL ASPECTS TO BE CONSIDERED
ii	Studio Process	Yes ✓	No
iii	Objectives	Yes	No ✓
iv	Submission Requirements	Yes ✓	No

2 Was the project/studio appropriate for that semester with respect to the following?

i	Scale	Yes ✓	No
ii	Complexity	Yes ✓	No
iii	Objectives	Yes ✓	No

3 What is your opinion about the pre-design studies/research conducted for the project/studio?

I THINK IT SHOULD HAVE BEEN MORE CLIMATE SPECIFIC THERE SHOULD BE MORE STRESS ON "FUTURISTIC ASPECTS".

4 How was the performance of the students that you reviewed with respect to the following? You may have reviewed a diverse set, please give us a general view of the performance.

i	Design Process	Excellent	Good ✓	Average	Poor
ii	Conceptual Clarity	Excellent	Good ✓	Average	Poor
iii	Presentation Quality - Graphical	Excellent	Good	Average ✓	Poor
iv	Presentation Quality - Language	Excellent	Good ✓	Average	Poor

5 Any suggestions or remarks?

MORE STRESS ON THE CONCEPTUAL PART, INCREASE ENVIRONMENTAL ASPECTS. ENCOURAGE "TO THINK OUT OF THE BOX". DON'T INSIST ON PLANS, SECTIONS & ELEVATIONS. GOOD CONCEPT ON THE WHOLE.

I PARTICULARLY LIKE THE IDEA OF GROUP WORK.

LOOKING FORWARD TO MORE SUCH INTERACTIONS.

Subject: Internship Certificate

Dear Sir/ Ma'am

THIS IS TO CERTIFY that Miss Shruti Sanjay Chaudhari, Student of Architecture from Pillai College of Architecture, Navi Mumbai, did her 8th Semester internship with "THE FIRM", as part of her curriculum, for a period of 100 days, commencing from 15th November 2022 to 21st March 2023. During this period, she took up all assignments with due diligence. I found her focused on all tasks and she was pro-active in delivering the work as per our expectations.

I wish her all the best for her future endeavors.

Regards

Arch. Deepika Batra Gwash

ARCHITECTS, INTERIOR DESIGNERS AND PROJECT MANAGEMENT CONSULTANTS

SPA/PPC/24/2020-21

4th Sept, 2020

TO WHOMSOEVER IT MAY CONCERN

This is to certify that Ms. Anjali Rajkumar Gund student of Piltai College of Architecture and Design Studies, Navl Mumbai; has successfully completed her Internship with our Architecture Firm for the scheduled duration of 4 Months, starting 18th November 2019 to 20th March 2020.

During Internship she had been assigned to our Institutional/ Design Architecture Teams; in capacity as Studio Support. The Team considers her as a sincere Intern, one who is willing to go that much distance to understand, absorb and apply the relevant requirements of the project work.

With the Team she has been an active member in many work deliverables, a salient few such as conversion of Design requirements into drawings, making architectural working drawings, making presentation drawings as and when required, being in conversation with vendors.

In this capacity the Team recognizes her efforts and appreciates her humble attitude and inclinations towards sincere work ethics.

On this note we at SPA offer our Best Wishes towards her future Professional journey and a very promising future.

Best regards,

For Shashi Prabhu & Associates,

Shashi Prabhu
