Everyone was feeling very happy that day because it was a matter of great pride for all of us as on 26 January 1950 the constitution of India came into force and our country, India became a republic. The program started with National Anthem at 8:00 am along with the Flag Hoisting on the college ground as usual. Mr. Pragnesh Shah, Associate Professor, Electronics and Telecommunications had consented to be the Chief Guest and addressed the gathering. This was followed by some speeches on patriotism. Many students also did different types of programs. On that day the campus of our college was decorated by the students. All the students were dressed in traditional costumes representing different parts of India.

Cultural	VACHAN PRERNA DIVAS	Event Date: 21 th OCT, 2020

Event Details: Vachan Prerna Divas event was held to celebrate reading books in terms of visual or verbal interpretations of the participants favourite book.

Venue: Online

Attended by students: II year, III year, IV year, V year

Brief Description:

In the wake of the cynical pandemic, finding optimism has been a concern for everyone. With regard to the ultramodern adaptations made in the society, VOX Magazine centralized 'Re-imagining Architecture' where our main aim was to call for entries which enabled PICANs to express their notions about their favorite book with the help of a graphical illustration and a summary of the book.

Their illustrations had to revolve around the 'new norms' and its emergence and aftermath of the same. What we call today as the new normal has various aspects. The fellow students got an opportunity to put light on the unseen sides of it as well as bring in their creativity. Right from book lovers to illustrators, the event gave a sound space for artists that had a different perspective towards the new normal. Whether it was about the digital dependence and its impact in all domains, cultural influences, irregularly schedules or even the imbalanced lifestyle.

We received 18 entries for the same. The submissions were in graphical as well as verbal format, and even in video format, by reciting their favorite part. The students highlighted all the sides and how difficult it would be to go back to our actual lifestyle. All in all, the idea gave our readers a broad analysis of how one can perceive things in an optimistic outlook and get the intricate efforts even in chaotic times.

IKIGAI

THE JAPANESE SECRET
TO A LONG AND HAPPY LIFE

"Life is not a problem to be solved. Just remember to have something that keeps you busy, doing what you love while being surrounded by the people you love."

Hector Garcia and Miralles Francesc took a trip to Okinawa, a small group of islands in Japan. And they figured that the reason for centenarians longevity was the existence of IKIGAI in the native people's lives. It helped them maintain a balance between the multiple aspects of life, which the majority of normal people are currently struggling with, in the rest of the world. This book is step-wise guide of simple, workable solutions for maintaining that balance. The book contradicts a lot of concepts which have become prevalent in today's western lifestyle.

Vachan Prerna Din Celebration (Reading Inspiration Day)

On the occasion of the birth anniversary of Dr. APJ Abdul Kalam Azad, October 15th has been declared as the vachan prerna diwas or the reading inspiration day by the government. Our college has celebrated birth anniversary of Late Honorable President Dr. A P J Kalam as Vachan rerana Din.

Our Principal gave an inspirational talk about how reading helps the students to build their vocabulary, communication skills and thinking process which will help them to achieve success in academic, personality development and progress in all angles, to the students presented for the event.

To encourage the reading habits among the students of our college, our Faculty Members and students decided to read aloud paras from the books of their interests to inspire the rest. Further, we launched a competition “Read and Write” (Vaacha ani liha) for the students to begin with. Students were enthusiastic to do so.

Faculty in-charge:	Prof. Aditya Gujarkar and Prof. Ashwini Bhosale
Student in-charge:	Jill Mehta

On 21st October 2022, Pillai College of Architecture celebrated National Innovation day and Vachan Prerna Divas in the 1st-floor studio of the PiCA campus at 11:30 am. The event was graced by the presence of the faculty of PiCA, our esteemed Principal ma'am, and the students of the 2nd-year batch. The event commenced on an auspicious note with the Saraswati Vandana. One best book is equal to a hundred good friends and one good friend is equal to equal to a library. This is a famous quote by our former President Dr. APJ Abdul Kalam and to commemorate him on his birth anniversary on 15th October we had professor Aditya sir who shared his views about the Missile man of India. To encapsulate the essence of Vachan Prerna divas we had the faculty and students of PiCA share their views and experiences on a book they have read and encourage others to read as well. Our senior faculty Prof. Bhide maam shared her views on two books Ujwaal Udyasathi by Baba Aamthe and Hasat Jagav by Dr. Rama Marathe, enlightening the youth on the way of living a good, happy, and productive life. Followed by a student of PiCA, Ms. Janhavi Iyer, shared her views on a fictional book Asura: Tale of the vanquished by Anand Neelkanthan that talks about Ramayana from Ravana's perspective and his portrayal in shades of grey. To keep the light of innovation sparkling in young minds, Prof. Sarojini ma'am shared the details of competitions and the innovations young minds have created to get a step closer to efficiency.

Last but not least our principal of PiCA, Dr. Sudnya Mahimkar maam, who has been Awarded with the Dr. APJ Abdul Kalam Puruskar for teaching and research excellence was felicitated by the students and faculty of PiCA for her achievement. The event was concluded with a warm note of gratitude.

How is the day celebrated?

For celebrating World Water Day, we showed an inspirational video by Paani Foundation. The video shows how the people of Maharashtra came together defeating the darkness, people set out on torch-lit-rally's hordes of people gathered in the fields, to resounding drumbeats. And as this madness grew, a storm of change grip the entire state. They were united in the single resolve of defeating drought. The people from the video explained to us the importance of water and how precious it is to everyone.

They also schooled us about the different types of water conservation methods. Quiz was conducted on the current affairs of water crisis. It was conducted house wise. Each house consisting of five members. There were three rounds. after each round one house was eliminated with the least points and at the end the team with maximum points was winner. The winner of the quiz competition were house "centaur" and "titan".

Students also contributed in raising the awareness about world water day by clicking photographs on the theme of water conservation. The students showed great participation in the quiz competition on current affairs of water crisis.

Inclusive Social Awareness:

Water is an existential requirement of a human being. Water also has its complex values when it comes to food, religion, culture, and the functioning of the environment and ecosystems. The World Water Day celebrates valuing of Water, and raises awareness of the global water crisis, and a core focus of the observance is to support the achievement of sustainable development goal 6: 'water and sanitation for all' by 2030.

With overexploitation of available resources, it has resulted in the major depletion of the water resource and has started causing imbalance to the livelihoods of millions of people as well as other living organisms. So in context with the growing scarcity, the groundwater which contributes to regular domestic use can no longer be overlooked. The sustainable use of groundwater will be the means of survival and adapting to climate change and meeting the needs of a growing population. So one needs to consciously and strategically be wise on the usage of water and also put on thought of saving of water and restoration of the water table, in turn, regenerating the groundwater.

Rainwater is considered to be the purest form of water. Strategic use of techniques in order to channel the rainwater and recharge the groundwater has to be thought in a very crucial manner.

Anubhooti- MES Pillai College of Architecture's social service wing along with the SIBC came together and hosted a talk by Prof. Nandan Mungekar on the occasion of World Water Day on 22nd March 2022 to highlight the importance, safeguard, restoration, and the strategic techniques that could be adopted to use rainwater for the domestic purposes.

How was the day celebrated? -

The event was graciously attended by Prof. Nandan Mungekar (Proprietor of Mungekar & Associates) and Dr. Sudnya Mahimkar ma'am, the principal of PICA. The event started with a general introduction to World Water Day, its relevance, and the importance of World Water Day. It was then, followed by felicitation by Dr. Sudnya Mahimkar to Prof. Nandan Mungekar.

Further Prof. Nandan Mungekar, who has received various awards with respect to Rain Water Harvesting as well as water management projects introduced us to the topic of Rain Water Harvesting, its relevance with respect to history, and how it has been contributing to the recharging of groundwater.

He also explained how to calculate the rainwater harvesting tank's capacity with respect to the average rainfall of the season and site area. It further proceeded with understanding the recharging of groundwater and some of the ideas that he had adopted in his projects. He further explained how to identify the location of the water sources with local strategies, for example, the use of coconut. He also showed the adaption of the dowsing technique that could be used for the identification of water sources.

Highlights:-

The presentation by Prof. Nandan Mungekar covered an aspect of building service that is the rain water harvesting and its calculation which could be taken forward by the students of PICA in not only their academics but also in their professional life. He also highlighted the importance of saving of water, safeguarding and restoration of water resources.

Attendance-

The event was successfully attended by the chief guest, faculty members, staff, and the students of Pillai's College of Architecture.

Inclusive Social Awareness:

Talavs, lakes and other water resources contribute to the major part of wetland ecosystems of the Konkan region. Being the traditional rainwater harvesting systems, the exploitation and depletion have led to many barren dried-out planes. Water as a resource contributes to climate mitigation, biodiversity, and much more contribution to other environmental aspects.

Consideration of water as a vital entity for mankind is exploited which has to lead to depletion of resources. Awareness and necessary guidance in order to preserve safeguard and restore our natural resources lie in our hands.

This calls upon awareness and strategic use of resources with the right mind to preserve and restoration of the talavs.

Anubhuti- MES Pillai College of Architecture's social service wing along with the SIBC came together with the PMC – Panvel Municipal Corporation came together to celebrate the occasion of World Wetland Day on 25th January 2022, by holding a public exhibition to highlight the importance of talav sites of Panvel city and to look into the issues and work on them. The work firstly started with developing and looking back at the talavs of Panvel – which holds importance in the historical timeline of Panvel.

Inclusive Social Awareness:

World Soil Day (WSD) is held annually on 5 December as a means to focus attention on the importance of healthy soil and to advocate for the sustainable management of soil resources.

This year, by addressing the increasing challenges of soil management, the Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO) campaign "Keep soil alive, protect soil biodiversity" aims to raise awareness of the importance of sustaining healthy ecosystems and human well-being. By encouraging students to engage in proactively improving soil health.

How is the day celebrated?

For celebrating World Soil Day we invited Mr.Sunil.G.Warang who is the gram panchayat secretary of Tulsuli village in Sindhudurg. Being a farmer himself he explained to us the importance of soil and how precious it is to the farmers. He also schooled us about the different types of soil available and what crops can be grown from it. Also an awareness of using organic products was given as the fertilizers might increase the production for a shorter period of span but, for the longer run it is dangerous as it degrades the quality of soil.

Students also contributed in raising the awareness about world soil day by sketching on the theme of soil biodiversity. Also few memories of them regarding soil was depicted via their childhood photos.

Highlights :

Activities conducted this year were both for fun as well as entertainment and skill building.

Pica Anubhuti Event		Session: 2018-19	YEAR –I, II, III, IV, V
Date: 5 June 2018	Time: 10AM	Semester: All

Tree Plantation :

"The true meaning of life is to plant trees, under whose shade you do not expect to sit."

Trees are vital. As the biggest plants on the planet, they give us oxygen, store carbon, stabilise the soil and give life to the world's wildlife. They also provide us with the materials for tools and shelter.

Not only are trees essential for life, but as the longest living species on earth, they give us a link between the past, present and future.

It's critical that woodlands, rainforests and trees in urban settings, such as parks, are preserved and sustainably managed across the world.

Trees benefit health

The canopies of trees act as a physical filter, trapping dust and absorbing pollutants from the air. Each individual tree removes up to 1.7 kilos every year. They also provide shade from solar radiation and reduce noise.

Over 20 species of British trees and shrubs are known to have medicinal properties. The oil from birch bark, for example, has antiseptic properties.

Research shows that within minutes of being surrounded by trees and green space, your blood pressure drops, your heart rate slows and your stress levels come down.

Trees benefit the environment

Trees absorb carbon dioxide as they grow and the carbon that they store in their wood helps slow the rate of global warming.

They reduce wind speeds and cool the air as they lose moisture and reflect heat upwards from their leaves. It's estimated that trees can reduce the temperature in a city by up to 7°C.

Trees also help prevent flooding and soil erosion, absorbing thousands of litres of stormwater.

Trees boost wildlife

Trees host complex microhabitats. When young, they offer habitation and food to amazing communities of birds, insects, lichen and fungi. When ancient, their trunks also provide the hollow cover needed by species such as bats, woodboring beetles, tawny owls and woodpeckers.

One mature oak can be home to as many as 500 different species. Richmond Park is full of such trees, which is one of the reasons it has been designated a National Nature Reserve and Site of Special Scientific Interest.

Trees strengthen communities

Trees strengthen the distinctive character of a place and encourage local pride. Urban woodland can be used as an educational resource and to bring groups together for activities like walking and bird-watching. Trees are also invaluable for children to play in and discover their sense of adventure.

Trees grow the economy

People are attracted to live, work and invest in green surroundings. Research shows that average house prices are 5-18% higher when properties are close to mature trees. Companies benefit from a healthier, happier workforce if there are parks and trees nearby.

Trees protect the future

Soon, for the first time in history, the number of people with homes in cities will outstrip those living in the countryside. Parks and trees will become an even more vital component of urban life. We must respect them and protect them for the future.

Trees are vital to our existence. An indigenous tree helps environmentally sustainable resource generation for the future generations. Fragrant trees help attract insects and birds and help in restoring the ecosystem.

Trees planted - Nyctanthes arbortristis - Parijat, Murraya exotica - Kamini.

The tree planting session was well received by all the participants.

The event was held on June 6th 2019

The event was a fun session of planting creepers in coconut shell hangings. The exhibition was on the ground floor and the display of the coconut shell planters created by the students of PICA. The shells were acquired from a local Coconut water stall. The saplings and red soil from nearby nursery, some rope from local shops to create a beautiful green wall alongside the Canteen.

1. Making of coconut shell vertical garden.
2. Thought provoking lecture.
3. Engaging Question and answer Session.
- 4.

Making of the Wall hanging planters with creepers. As these are made of decomposable coconut shell filled with soil and manure, they are very environment friendly. The eco-planter is planted with creeper and tied to fence with a jute rope.

The event was coordinated by Ar. Prof. Reshma Sathe, with the help of Anubhuti, the social service wing of PICA. The event was attended by about 100 students and faculty of PICA.

The Idea of Waste:

Ms. Mhapsekar, explained the concept of waste. Waste collection is a cycle of Rag pickers, collectors, recyclers and merchants. The rag pickers have to segregate the waste dumped at sites, the conditions being very unhealthy.

The focus of the talk was on segregating the waste at source so as to minimize the complications involved in separating the household waste.

Ms. Mhapsekar has been involved in organizing these awareness lectures, wherein she urges the common householder to treat the organic waste at the source point. SMS (Stree Mukti Sanghatana) has, with the help of BARC, developed a simple waste basket, which transforms the organic waste to manure.

The talk also shared her experiences in working with the rag pickers and their education and awareness about self-health. She shared key insights, which can change the plight of the rag pickers.

Ms. Mhapsekar was welcomed with a potted plant and goody bag by PiCA Principal Dr. Sudnya Mahimkar. Having devoted her lifetime to this issue, her work has created a platform where these issues are discussed. The issue of waste has troubled Municipal corporations over generations and across the globe. Organizations like Stree Mukti Sangathana, help bridge the gap between the under privileged and the mass.

Ms. Mhapsekar also touched on the aspects of Gender Equality in the society and her organization's efforts to bring about awareness and induce dialogues on much neglected issues, like Women's health, equal rights.

The talk ended with a Question and Answer session, where in Jyoti madam emphasized the importance of commitment towards the issue of Waste management. Dr. Daphne Pillai and Ar. Smita Dalvi; inquired about the challenges in dealing with the landfill sites.

The event was coordinated by Ar. Prof. Smita Dalvi, with the help of Anubhuti, the social service wing of PiCA and SIBC. The event was attended by about 600 students and faculty of PiCA, Biotechnology and PCACS.

Inclusive Social Awareness:

Many institutions work towards improvement of the relatively unprivileged sections of the society. But in recent years there is another improvement merely needed which is with the natural resources. All over the earth there is a scarcity of natural things like trees, plants, birds etc. the humans are becoming cruel to themselves and their mere future. Utilising nature and its resources is good to some extent but it being used to bring a scarcity is really tough for themselves.

But there are also people who have started caring about nature, being a part of it and redeveloping nature and bringing back the space to breathe for everyone.

The same credits are of Sandhya Chougule mam who had a keen interest on being into nature, planting trees, and also educating people about the same.

About The Speaker:

Sandhya Chougule mam was born in Satara Maharashtra to Laxman - an army officer and Leela - a house maker. Driven by a deep understanding of the vital role of trees, Sandhya mam began her plantation activity in 1986. Since then, she has to her credit the planting and care of more than 60,000 trees. While she plants, Sandhya mam also helps to create sensitivity and awareness about nature and the environment in the local population like gram swachta and gram vikas yojna, education in katkari community etc. and also has received many awards from the government and trusts like 'Dalit-Mitra Puraskar', Satara Icon Award 2010, Lakshmi Moreshwar Award etc all these years.

Inclusive Social Awareness:

World Environment Day is observed on 5th June every year with a motive to raise awareness and portray the importance of Mother Nature. The environment plays a vital role in the existence of the planet earth. Earth, which is home to different living species, is being constantly exploited to the very reasoning of the existential crisis of not only us but also other living creatures as well. Drastic changes in the environment at an alarming rate have pushed us to focus on and rather protect the environment, making it sustainable for all living organisms. This year's theme, 'Only One Earth' is to focus on the World's togetherness in the direction of creating an atmosphere encouraging peace, harmony, prosperity, and health by saving nature and life. The strategy of the theme is to create and adopt a lifestyle, pollution-free and sustains the green land. This planet is our only home and we need to save it for upcoming generations.

Anubhuti- MES Pillai's College of Architecture's social service wing celebrated the same by conducting a plantation drive on 8th June 2022.

Inclusive Social Awareness:

Many institutions work towards improvement of the relatively unprivileged sections of the society. However, there is always a subtle line of separation between “them” and “us”. Diwali as an auspicious occasion was celebrated by killing the evil inside and being happier inside and making our surroundings also happier. The main motive was a cracker free diwali to save the environment and all the people and animals on the streets.

How is the day celebrated?

Since this was an online event due to the covid situation, the occasion of diwali was celebrated to the maximum with the minimum use of crackers. A competition was conducted to bring in a sportive spirit and also for them to enjoy. Everyone was asked to send diwali decorations and rangolis of their own house.

Highlights :

Activities conducted this year were both for fun as well as entertainment and skill building.

1. Cracker Free Diwali
2. Making rangolis and diwali decorations.
3. Sharing the pictures with everyone.

Sharing and caring -

The idea of getting together, having fun and doing charity is the most important here. Due to the covid situation all the processes have got late and everything is online, the main constraints of mingling with people, celebrating and helping them was not possible. Still the team came up with an idea to reciprocate the same feeling of joy and happiness, making it a cracker free diwali.

Winners will be receiving a 100 rs voucher and Team Anubhuti will be doing food charity of Rs 35 on behalf of the winners through "Charitism - A social workers group".

Attendance -

The event was remotely attended by 18 people including students of second, third and fourth year and faculties of PiCA.
