Anubhuti Event	Session: 2019-20
Date: 15 th August 2019	Semester: III, V, VII

Independence Day in India is celebrated with flag hoisting ceremonies, and it's a mandatory public holiday, requiring companies to grant leave to their employees. All public and private institutions, banks, and offices remain closed on this day, and schools and colleges organize various events for the occasion, attended by local residents. However, the dedicated police force never takes a break from their vigilance, always ensuring the nation's security. The purpose of the session was to acknowledge their tireless efforts and show society's appreciation. Despite the less fashionable nature of engaging with the police force, there is much to learn from them, as they have valuable insights into people and public sentiments. Through communication, we can gain a better understanding of community needs and design the built environment with sensitivity, prioritizing safety. During this event, students from PICA Anubhuti shared tea with the Railway Police, discussing common commuter issues, including gender and age-related concerns. About 20 students participated, creating a meaningful and enlightening experience.

Pillai students actively engaged in a River Cleaning Drive along the Kalundre Riverfront in Panvel on January 11, 2020. This environmental initiative began with a tree plantation drive and aimed to raise awareness about the importance of preserving our environment and preventing further pollution. Sahil More, a PBS student, led the effort by enlightening his peers about the detrimental effects of littering in the river. Subsequently, the students collaborated with the PMC Cleaning Team to cleanse the river. The collected waste was carefully segregated into two bins, distinguishing between biodegradable and non-biodegradable materials. The event concluded with all participants taking a solemn oath to protect the environment. Distinguished guests including Tejas Kandpile, a PMC corporator; former corporator Subhash Bhujbal; Gourav Hingane, assistant engineer with CIDCO Panvel; Shailesh Gaikwad, health inspector at PMC; Arun Kamble, sanitary inspector at PMC; and Rakesh Bhujbal of PMC graced the occasion as chief guests. Faculty members, Mrs. Deepika Sharma, Mr. Bhagwan More, Dr. Celina Joy, and Dr. Betty Sibil, extended their appreciation by felicitating the

Date: 6 th June 2019	Semester: III,V,VII

On June 6th, 2019, a delightful event took place with the aim of making every corner green. The event featured a fun and engaging session where participants planted creepers in coconut shell hangings. On the ground floor, an exhibition showcased the creative coconut shell planters crafted by the talented students of PiCA, who had sourced the shells from a local coconut water stall. Saplings and red soil were obtained from a nearby nursery, and some rope was procured from local shops to construct a beautiful green wall alongside the canteen. These wall hanging planters, made from decomposable coconut shells filled with soil and manure, exemplified environmental friendliness. Each eco-planter was planted with a creeper and securely tied to the fence using jute rope. The event was meticulously coordinated by Ar. Prof. Reshma Sathe, with the invaluable support of Anubhuti, the social service wing of PiCA, and saw the enthusiastic participation of approximately 100 students and faculty members from PiCA.

The main goal of the event was to raise awareness among students about the benefits of yoga. Hosted by "ALIGN YOGA," the event aimed to encourage a regular practice of yoga to achieve inner peace and physical well-being.

Mr. Parag Javadekar, the founder of "ALIGN YOGA," began his yoga journey during his college days in Pune and furthered his expertise with a postgraduate diploma in Therapeutic Restorative Yoga. He introduced himself at the event and explained the numerous advantages of yoga, covering various aspects of its practice. To reinforce their understanding, students participated in a one-hour yoga session guided by Mr. Parag Javadekar. They learned about the different stages of yoga and the importance of proper breathing techniques, with visual aids and hands-on experience.

By the end of the event, students felt confident in practicing yoga on their own. The event concluded with a vote of thanks, successfully promoting the holistic benefits of yoga in fostering physical and mental well-being.

Inclusive Social Awareness:

World Soil Day, observed on December 5, highlights the importance of healthy soil and sustainable soil management. This year's Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO) campaign, "Keep soil alive, protect soil biodiversity," aims to raise awareness about healthy ecosystems and human well-being. Students celebrated by inviting Mr. Sunil G. Warang, a farmer and gram panchayat secretary, who emphasized the importance of soil, discussed soil types and crops, and advocated for organic products over harmful fertilizers. Students also contributed by creating sketches on soil biodiversity and sharing childhood memories related to soil. The event included educational speeches, childhood photos, and sketches, with the participation of 5 students from the second and third years of Architecture.

World Environment Day, observed every June 5th, serves as an annual reminder of the vital importance of a healthy and sustainable environment in our lives. It encourages individuals, organizations, and governments to take positive actions to address environmental challenges. In celebration of this day, an engaging doodle art competition centered around the theme of "World Environment Day" was held. Students enthusiastically contributed to raising awareness through their creative doodles, and the competition yielded three winners: Siddhi Sharma (First Year), Roshani Tiwari (First Year), and Shiyam Patil (Third Year). These talented students were rewarded with eco-friendly products courtesy of "Bamboo India." The event's primary goal was to underscore the urgency of environmental preservation and the responsible use of natural resources, especially in light of the ongoing global environmental concerns. The participation from students across different academic years was impressive, demonstrating their commitment to environmental awareness and action. Prizes for the winners will be provided by bambooinida.com, and further details will be shared once the winners receive their rewards.

Brief Description:

The main aim of the event was to make students aware about the benefits of yoga. The motive of yoga is to inculcate a complete body and mind exercise in our day to day schedule so as to attain peace and comfort in our own skin and body. Pillai College of Architecture in association with Heartfulness Education Trust celebrates "Yoga for Compassion" by organising live Yoga and heartfulness meditation training workshops. Three day online short-term training programs were held for the students and faculty members. To understand the newly gained knowledge better, the students were asked to practice yoga with their guidance. And also the students had to find one suitable, easy or complex Yoga pose that they were comfortable with and perform the posture. They were asked to click a picture or shoot a video and send it, as every pose challenges your physical endurance and flexibility. There was a very good participation of students and faculties which contributed to the success of event.

Event details :

Pillai College of Architecture, New Panvel observed World Toilet Day on 19th November, 2020 by hosting two major events this year. Senate — The Student Council of Pica in collaboration with Soroptimist Welfare Association (SIBC) organised 'Nirmal' — toilet design competition and Q2P movie screening to celebrate the event. The idea of observing world toilet day emerged from the thought of providing sustainable sanitization, alongside clean water and hand washing facilities to help protect and maintain our health security and stop the spread of infectious diseases. In order to tackle the global sanitation crisis and achieve sustainable development for all by 2030 we celebrate this World Toilet day in awareness since 2001. The event was graced by the appearance of honourable chief guest Dr. Daphne Pillai, co-Founder of MES group of institutions, Principal of Pillai College of Architecture Dr. Sudnya Mahimkar, President of SIBC Yvette Lee, members of SIBC, faculties and students of PICA and PHOC institutes.

Introduction to the Speaker:

Paromita Vohra is a filmmaker and a writer whose work explores feminism, love and desire, urban life and popular culture. She has been invited to speak at universities around the world. She is also the founder and Creative Director of AGENTS OF ISHQ India's best-loved website about sex, love and desire. Her fiction and non-fiction have been widely published. She writes a weekly column, PARO- NORMAL ACTIVITY, in Sunday Middy. She is the writer of the film Khamosh Pani, the comic book called Priya's Mirror, a play named Ishqiya, and scripts for documentaries such as Dharavi Ishtyle. Paromita has made a number of landmark documentary films that have been shown world wide. In 2012 Time Out listed her as one of 10 people to change how Indians watch films.

About the movie:

Q2P, a film by Paromita Vohra, is about toilets and the city. It sifts through the dream of Mumbai as a future Shanghai and searches for public toilets, watching who has to queue to pee. As the film observes who has access to toilets and who doesn't, we hear the silence that surrounds the toilet and sense how similar it is to the silence that surrounds inequality.

As a part of the Beautification drive at Panvel Railway Station, students of Pillai College of Architecture, New Panvel coordinated resources who paint the walls of Panvel Railway Station in December 2020. As this initiative was undertaken during the Pandemic, the artwork was dedicated to the frontline corona warriors. Railway stations play an important role in the daily commute of Mumbai and Navi Mumbai residence but are very often the most neglected part of the city infrastructure. The students hence took the pandemic related low traffic period to beautify the station. This initiative has given a vibrant and rejuvenated look to the other wise dull premises.

JUMBLE SALE 2020
Anubhuti Event	Session: 2020-21
Date: 10 Feb 2021	Semester: IV,VI

The Sharing Idea:

The annual Jumble Sale is a community event where individuals come together to share excess items with those in need at a minimal cost. This approach ensures that recipients don't feel overwhelmed by charity, and donors find satisfaction in contributing to a purpose rather than an individual. The event aims to bridge the gap between different socioeconomic groups and promote collective donation. Donations, including clothing, toys, bags, and books, were collected prior to the event. On the event day, stalls were set up and managed by Anubhuti, the social service wing of PICA, selling items like garments, jewelry, and miscellaneous goods at low prices.

The event received a commendable response and fostered a sense of connection and joy among participants. Coordinated by M.E.S. with the support of Anubhuti, items donated by PICANs were sold at the PICA counter. Approximately 1200 students and staff from M.E.S., as well as attendees from Rasayani and Goregaon, participated in the event to share the joy of giving and receiving.

Anubhuti Event	Session: 2020-21	YEAR - II, III
Date: 10 Feb 2021		Semester: III, V

The day was celebrated with spreading awareness to people by encouraging them to donate masks to people who really are in need. That is the people on the road, the poor or the servants.

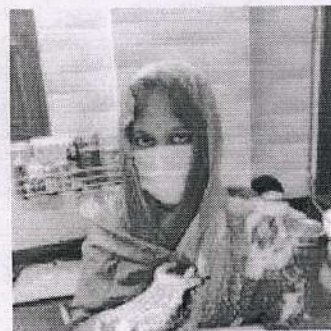

The awareness was spread to people from the college first where they were asked to donate masks to the basic start from the servants and the househelp. The start can be from anywhere, the only thing important is to start.

If the house help or the servant doesn't wear a mask or isn't safe she may get infected and inreturn it can harm our family.

There were many inspiring quotes told and the trial was made for people to get inspired and get the ones around them.

Spreading awareness to people by encouraging them to donate masks to people who really are in need.

Inclusive Social Awareness is crucial in our time. While institutions work to uplift marginalized communities, we must also address the depletion of our natural resources. The planet is suffering from a scarcity of essential elements like trees, plants, and wildlife, endangering both the environment and our future. Sandhya Chougule, a remarkable individual from Satara, Maharashtra, exemplifies the solution. In 1986, she began planting trees and has since nurtured over 60,000 of them. Her work goes beyond planting; she educates communities about the environment and has received prestigious awards, including the 'Dalit-Mitra Puraskar' and the 'Satara Icon Award 2010.' Sandhya's journey inspires us, demonstrating that determination and support can turn ambitious dreams into reality.

The day celebrating Inclusive Social Awareness featured a talk by Sandhya Chougule, a teacher. She shared her life's journey, from childhood love for trees to transforming an entire forest. Through captivating visuals, she showcased the thriving forest, her students, and friends planting saplings, and festive celebrations within it. The event closed with students' questions, impressions, and a heartfelt vote of thanks.

Highlights of the day included the inspiring story of forest creation, proving that determination and support can achieve even the most challenging dreams. The event drew a diverse audience, fostering a deeper understanding of the importance of preserving our natural world and honoring individuals like Sandhya Chougule leading this vital cause.

Testing Camp – Random Blood Sugar, Hemoglobin & Bone Density
Date: 21 st September, 2022 10.00 am to 4.00 pm.	Venue: Ground Floor Architecture Studio

The Indian Ministry of Health launched the Anemia Mukta Bharat Program in 2018 to reduce anemia in vulnerable groups like women, children, and adolescents. Lifestyle and habits have weakened immunity, making people more susceptible to diseases. Ensuring women's health is crucial as they are often the family's primary caregivers.

Soroptimist International Bombay Chembur (SIBC) collaborated with MES Pillai College of Architecture, New Panvel, and Bharat Vikas Parishad, along with support from PiCA Women Development Cell, Anubhuti, and PiCA Senate. They organized a testing camp on 21/09/2022 from 10:00 am to 4:00 pm for female architecture students and staff. A total of 206 participants, including students, teaching staff, non-teaching staff, and housekeeping staff, attended.

Dr. Kirti Samudra (M.D. Physician and Diabetologist) and her lab technicians provided testing and prescribed medicines based on deficiencies. They identified three extreme cases with very low hemoglobin levels and provided them with necessary medication. Nine severe cases with high random blood sugar levels received counseling and diet guidance. Many female staff over 35 years had low bone density and were advised to increase calcium intake and modify their diet. Overall, the camp successfully raised awareness about female health.

Inclusive Social Awareness:

World Environment Day is observed on 5th June every year with a motive to raise awareness and portray the importance of Mother Nature. The environment plays a vital role in the existence of the planet earth. Earth, which is home to different living species, is being constantly exploited to the very reasoning of the existential crisis of not only us but also other living creatures as well. Drastic changes in the environment at an alarming rate have pushed us to focus on and rather protect the environment, making it sustainable for all living organisms. This year's theme, 'Only One Earth' is to focus on the World's togetherness in the direction of creating an atmosphere encouraging peace, harmony, prosperity, and health by saving nature and life. The strategy of the theme is to create and adopt a lifestyle, pollution-free and sustains the green land. This planet is our only home and we need to save it for upcoming generations. Anubhuti- MES Pillai's College of Architecture's social service wing celebrated the same by conducting a plantation drive on 8th June 2022.

In today's fast-paced world, women play vital roles but often face abuse and harassment. MES Pillai College of Architecture, along with Pillai College of Arts, Commerce, and Science, and the Women Development Cell, held an informative session on women's rights regarding workplace sexual harassment and domestic violence. The focus was on non-teaching female staff, particularly housekeeping staff who may hesitate to report such incidents.

Dr. Karuna Akshay Malviya, a prominent lawyer in women's rights, was the guest speaker. She explained various forms of domestic violence and sexual harassment, emphasizing that they can also be psychological. Dr. Karuna detailed the complaint process and highlighted the importance of filing an FIR at a police station. She also mentioned "zero FIR" for cases outside the jurisdiction. The housekeeping staff shared experiences, asked questions, and had doubts clarified. This informative session aimed to empower women with knowledge of their constitutional rights in cases of harassment or violence.
