Course Aim and objective : (Please provide this info for ALL subjects)

Background: -

Architectural theory is fundamental to architectural education. We as architects should rigorously develop a design thinking philosophy. Since antiquity we have progressed in developing a conscious thought behind built environment. This course gives students an opportunity to develop an increased awareness about the current theoretical discourses that inform the discipline of architecture. It should also support the challenges students meet in articulating design thought in writing and speech.

Aim:-

The course aims to create awareness among students about the current discourses aligned with architecture which enrich the articulation of design thought.

Objectives:-

- To make comprehensible the influences of aligned disciplines and their approaches on architectural design.
- To understand contemporary theoretical frameworks which have impacted the architectural practice and academia in India and around the world.
- To develop an ability to articulate design thought grounded on a theoretical approach.

Process:-

- The course focuses on reading, writing and generating discussions around different theoretical frameworks.

- Peer-teaching: The students will be introduced to certain theoretical ideas aligned with the discipline of architecture and then they will be given a reading about the same. A group of students will prepare a presentation and will conduct a peer-teaching session.
- Developing mind-map/diagram for an architectural project based on a theoretical approach.
- Developing discussions around the theoretical approaches in the post-millennial world and contemporary India.
- Regular reading and writing assignments will be given to students.

Horizontal Integration approach with other subjects in the semester:-

- The course will aide the design thinking process of DD-II.
- The course will link with the three AT courses taught in second and third year.

	List of minimum FIVE Course Outcomes (COs) based on which student's progress will be evaluated.
1	The ability to appreciate various theoretical discourses linked with architecture.
2	The awareness of current discourses and debates in architecture.
3	The value of theoretical disposition in design thinking and the ability to articulate design thought in prose and speech.
4	The knowledge of current design thinking that influences architectural practice in India today.
5	The ability to analyse the theoretical frameworks used in architectural discipline in the post-millennial world.

MARKS REVIEW MEETING (2023-24)
SEMESTER VI

- Consideration of Extension and Remedial studio:

An extension was proposed to be given to defaulting students to clear their subjects. Defaulting students will be required to work on assignments given by respective faculty members within a specified time frame.

- Determination of Final Defaulters:

Students who had not attended college throughout the semester and failed more than two subjects with poorer academic records were identified as final defaulters. It was unanimously decided that these students would not be given another chance to clear their subjects, considering the extent of their academic deficiencies and lack of commitment.

All the subject faculty members are requested to submit final internal marks to the exam department by 6th April 2024. The Exam Department will prepare and release a list of final defaulters and share it with the students before the commencement of the final university exams.

Action Items:

- Subject in-charges to prepare assignments for remedial studio.
- Subject in-charges to update the spreadsheet of compiled marks of Sem 6
- Subject in-charges to submit revised marks to the Exam Department.
