Examination Types and Schedule

- Students will have three types of examinations: Regular, Supplementary, and Backlog exams.
- Regular and Supplementary exams will be conducted at the end of each term with a gap of around three weeks.
- Backlog exams will be conducted once at the end of the academic year in June.

Backlog Examination and Grade Penalty

- Students opting for backlog exams directly or failing regular and supplementary exams must appear for backlog exams.
- Students who pass the backlog exam will receive only the minimum passing marks, regardless of their actual performance.
- Failure in the backlog exam will result in a year drop.

Eligibility for Semester 10 and Viva Voce Examination

- To be eligible for the Semester 10 examination, a student must pass the Semester 9 examination within two attempts (Regular or Supplementary).
- Students must clear internal assessments of a subject before appearing for its external viva voce examination.

Question Paper Preparation and Selection

- Three sets of question papers will be prepared for each examination.
- Two sets will be created by internal faculty and one by external faculty, covering the entire syllabus.
- The examination paper will be selected randomly in the presence of randomly chosen student witnesses.

Promotion to the Next Academic Year

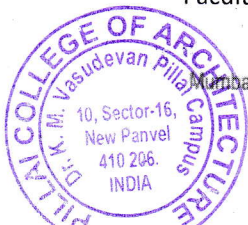

- To be eligible for admission to the next academic year, students must clear all internal and external assessments of the previous year.
- Re-evaluation and Answer Sheet Photocopy Requests
- If dissatisfied with the result, students may apply for either a photocopy of their answer sheet or a re-evaluation procedure.
- Applications for re-evaluation or answer sheet photocopies must be submitted within two days of result declaration.

These rules are also published on the college website for reference.
